Stephen Foster wrote a song called Angelina Baker in 1851, with a different (though some say related) tune. Since this one is more common in old-time circles we've called the Foster version Angelina Baker's Gone, to distinguish them. Lyrics to this tune often seem to reflect a mix of Angeline, the Baker, and Foster's Angelina Baker. These lyrics are from Mudcat Cafe and other sources; they're arranged to work with the usual AABB repeat pattern.

2A. Angelina Baker, her age is forty-three
I give her candy by the peck, but she won't marry me.
Angelina Baker, Angeline I know
Wish I'd married Angeline, twenty years ago.

2B. She won't do the bakin' because she is too stout
She makes cookies by the peck and throws the coffee out.
Angeline taught me to weep, she taught me to moan
Angeline taught me to weep, and play on the old jawbone

Final chorus 1x (to 'A' part):

Angelina Baker, Angelina Baker
Angeline, Angeline, won't you please be mine?

The Arkansas Traveler

Traditional, arr. Pete Showman

1. Once upon a time in Arkansas, an old man sat in his little cabin door,
And fiddled at a tune that he liked to hear, a jolly old tune that he played by ear.

It was raining hard but the fiddler didn't care, he sawed away at the popular air,
Though his roof-tree** leaked like a water-fall, it didn't seem to bother the old man at all.

2. A traveler was riding by that day, and stopped to hear the fiddler play;
The cabin was afloat and his feet were wet, but still the old man didn't seem to fret.

So the stranger said: "Now it seems to me, you'd better mend your roof," said he.
But the old man said, as he played away: "I couldn't mend it now, it's a rainy day."

3. The traveler replied: "That's all quite true, but this, I think, is the thing for you to do;
Get busy on a day that is fair and bright, then pitch the old roof till it's good and tight."

But the old man kept on playin' at his reel, and tapped the ground with his leathery heel:
"Get along," said he, "for you give me a pain; my cabin never leaks when it doesn't rain!"

** A roof-tree is a ridgepole running along the peak of the roof.

Here are some example lyrics. You can find many more on the Web.

- A. I've got a gal at the head of the creek, goin' up to see her 'bout two times a week.
She's got eyes of darkest brown, makes my head turn all a-roun'
- B. Goin' up Cripple Creek, goin' on a run, goin' up Cripple Creek to have a little fun.
Goin' up Cripple Creek, goin' in a whirl, goin' up Cripple Creek to see my girl.

Hot Corn, Cold Corn

1. Well it's up - - stairs down - stairs out in the kit - chen,

Up - - stairs down - - stairs out in the kit - chen,

Up - - stairs down - - stairs out in the kit - chen,

See Unc-le Bill just a rar-in' and a pick-in', yes sir!

Chorus:

Hot corn, cold corn, bring a - long the dem - i - - john,

Hot corn, cold corn, bring a - long the dem - i - - john,

Fare - well Unc-le Bill, see you in the morn-ing, yes sir!

** An old song popularized in the bluegrass community by Lester Flatt, Earl Scruggs and the Foggy Mountain Boys. Here's a video of the band playing it on Hootenanny, around 1964: www.youtube.com/watch?v=nov127Ta\_Eg

This instrumental break is based on "Fiddlin'" Doc Roberts's mandolin playing on a 1934 recording by Asa Martin (1900-1979, guitar and probably vocals here), and Roberts (1897-1978, playing mandolin on this recording though he was mainly known as a fiddler). See www.youtube.com/watch?v=C9rk-1EPSZI. These lyrics are Flatt's, from the above Hootenanny video. The vocal melody is mostly Flatt's, with a few bits from the Martin-Roberts recording.

Some more lyrics, first from Flatt and Scruggs (ca. 1964):

1. Well it's upstairs downstairs out in the kitchen (3x)
See you Uncle Bill just a-rarin' and a-pickin', yes sir
-- Chorus --
2. Well it's old Aunt Peggy won't you fill 'em up again (3x)
Ain't had a drink since I don't know when, yes sir.
-- Chorus --
3. Well yonder comes the preacher and the children are a-crying (3x)
Chickens all a-running and the toenails [a] flying, yes sir
-- Chorus --

These are from Martin and Roberts (1934) (slightly cleaned up):

1. Upstairs, downstairs, out in the kitchen (3x)
I met old Cook just a-rarin' and a-pitchin', yes sir!
Chorus:
Hot corn cold corn bring along the demijohn (3x)
Fare thee well my Allie** gal, meetcha in the morning, yes sir
2. Preacher's all a-comin' and the children's all a-cryin' (3x)
Chickens all a-wringin' and the toenails flyin', yes sir
-- Chorus --
3. Had a little dog and his name was Ned / He run that chicken 'til he fell dead,
He got choked on old corn bread / Sure am sorry that dog is dead, yes sir!
-- Chorus --
4. Preacher in the pulpit takin' in the money / Children in the bee hive gettin' all the honey
Aunt Sue shoutin' and a-singin' for joy / Happiest lot of people that ever I saw, Yes sir!

Notes on the lyrics:

(1) Demijohn: a large narrow-necked bottle usually enclosed in a wicker basket, often used for holding liquor.

(2) Rarin': presumably rearing (as a horse might), as in "rarin' to go"

** Or maybe Ellie gal -- or alley gal?

This is about how I usually play it, though I sometimes simplify it a time or two if I get tired of playing (or hearing) so many notes. For example you could start the A part like this, leaving out some of the "fill" notes:

You can find lots of other variations; for example, the Fiddler's Fakebook and the Phillips Collection both do measure 2 like this:

The slurs shown are just "serving suggestions": one way of managing bow direction. The goal is to keep the bowing fairly regular without being too robotic, and to come out "even" at the end of each part (at least). Try other patterns to see what you like, and try varying both bowing and the extra notes as you repeat the tune.

Shuffle bowing is alternating a quarter note with two eighths.

The bow direction repeats after two patterns:

* Most sources list this as "traditional" or "composer unknown," though one website credits prolific gospel song writer Albert E. Brumley, who wrote I'll Fly Away. www.allmusic.com/album/long-journey-home-mw0000690604 says the first recording was by the Monroe Brothers (young Bill and one of his brothers, Charlie) in 1936: www.youtube.com/watch?v=V4ZLjumc8x0. But its introduction to bluegrass seems often credited to the Stanley Brothers, who recorded it in 1961, e.g. at www.youtube.com/watch?v=q-dhLfIDCUg. The order and selection of verses varies considerably. The first two verses here and the chorus are about what the Stanley Brothers did in the above recording.

Two Dollar Bills

Yes, they're real! Two dollar bills are still officially in circulation, though they aren't common now, at least not here in California. But when I was growing up in New England in the 1950s and '60s they were about as common as fives. If you bought something for a dollar and gave the clerk $5, you'd almost always get two $2 bills back. Here's a picture of the design in use since about 1928.

Red Wing (lyrics by Thurland Chattaway)

There once was an Indian maid,
A shy little prairie maid,
Who sang a lay, a love song gay,
As on the plain she'd while away the day;

She loved a warrior bold,
This shy little maid of old,
But brave and gay, he rode one day
To battle far away.

Chorus:

*Now, the moon shines tonight on pretty Red Wing
The breeze is sighing, the night bird's crying,
For afar 'neath his star her brave is sleeping,
While Red Wing's weeping her heart away.*

She watched for him day and night,
She kept all the campfires bright,
And under the sky, each night she would lie,
And dream about his coming by and by;

But when all the braves returned,
The heart of Red Wing yearned,
For far, far away, her warrior gay,
Fell bravely in the fray.

Red Haired Boy / Little Beggarman

♩ = 80

(basic version, as a hornpipe)

Traditional Irish

** A variation for the next-to-last measures of the A and/or B parts:

The tempo for a hornpipe dance is fairly slow (lots of fancy footwork), and is played with a syncopated feel. Here the dotted rhythm is only written out in the first couple of measures to illustrate, but it extends throughout the tune. I like the hornpipe feel -- and the slower pace makes it easier to add ornaments (or to sing the words for Little Beggarman; for that, omit the A and B repeats and maybe play it in a lower key like D Mix.). But nowadays you'll often hear hornpipes played as if they were reels: fast, and with an even beat.

Musical score for "Soldier's Joy (Basic melody)" in D Major, 2/4 time. The score consists of four staves of music. The first staff begins with a boxed 'A' above the first measure, followed by a 'D' chord above the second measure. The piece ends with an 'A7' chord above the final measure. The second staff starts at measure 5 with a 'D' chord above the first measure, an 'A' chord above the fourth measure, and first/second endings labeled '1 D' and '2 D' above the final two measures. The third staff starts at measure 9 with a boxed 'B' above the first measure, followed by 'D' and 'A' chords above the second and third measures, and 'D' and 'A' chords above the fourth and fifth measures. The fourth staff starts at measure 13 with 'D' and 'A' chords above the first and second measures, and first/second endings labeled '1 D' and '2 D' above the final two measures. The piece concludes with the instruction "(To repeat)".

Transcribed and typeset in ABC by Pete Showman, from the playing of John Hartford (fiddle), with Mark Schatz (Bass), Mike Compton (mandolin) and Chris Sharp (guitar), playing at the Kentucky Folk Festival at Berea College in Bardstown, KY in 1998. Apparently John got it from Samuel Bayard's "Dance to the Fiddle, March to the Fife," tune no. 220. See www.youtube.com/watch?v=gV98pfwsM3k. Watch the video to see John's smooth bowing and fingering; there are good closeups of the fiddle. (rev. 2: 3/20/2016)

Notes on the Mode(s) and Chords

\*\*\* These C notes often sound half-way between C $\flat$  and C $\sharp$ , but I think usually more towards C $\flat$ . As I hear John's playing it's partly A-Mixolydian (C $\sharp$ ) and partly A-Dorian (C natural), though some transcriptions push all the C's one way or the other.

The mode of the tune is often ambiguous, e.g. there are no C notes in the first two measures, so you can't tell if it's A-Mixolydian (major) or A-Dorian (minor) -- and as noted above, when they do occur they sound halfway between natural and sharp. The typical A-Mixolydian "A & G" accompaniment shown is what I mostly hear, but the chords could also be "Am & G", as for A-Dorian. Ideally accompanists could play A chords without the third (C) note, to make them ambiguous too.

The D chord at the ends of the parts is not typical for A Mixolydian (more like D major) but it seems to be what's played -- even though in John's fiddle chord the A note seems to dominate over the D (suggesting an A key). You could also play an A chord (and make the lower note of the melody chord 'E' instead of 'D').

Some transcriptions substitute Em for the A chords at least in the [A] part; do that if you prefer.

This is how I learned it. I prefer this first (and fifth) measure, similar to the version in the Fiddler's Fakebook, to the perhaps more common "D-F#-A" beginning. Metis fiddler Andy DeJarlis (Northwestern Canada) is credited with popularizing the tune in the 1950s, and some suggest he wrote it (or at least adapted it from earlier tunes). See below for a transcription from his Backwoods Fiddle Tunes LP (128 bpm; www.youtube.com/watch?v=7RZ25JBzQR8).

Emmylou Harris and Iris Dement lyrics

(www.youtube.com/watch?v=7\_x9B\_\_0rgE)

1. I will twine and will mingle my raven black hair
With the roses so red and the lilies so fair,
And the myrtle so bright with an emerald hue
The pale emanita and hyssop so blue.***
2. Oh, he taught me to love him and called me his flower
A blossom to cheer him through life's weary hour
Now my heart is now wondering no misery can tell
He left me no warning no words of farewell
3. I will dance I will sing and my life shall be gay
I will charm every heart in the crowd I will sway
Though my heart is now breaking he never shall know
How his name makes me tremble my pale cheeks to glow
4. Oh, he taught me to love him and promised to love
And cherish me over all others above
Oh, I long to see him and regret the dark hour
He's gone and neglected this frail wildwood flower

"Mother" Maybelle Carter's lyrics

1. Oh, I'll twine with my mingles and waving black hair
With the roses so red and the lilies so fair
And the myrtles so bright with emerald dew
The pale and the leader and eyes look like blue.
2. Oh, I'll dance, I will sing and my laugh shall be gay
I will charm ev'ry heart, in his crown I will sway
When I woke from my dreaming, idols were clay
All portions of love then had all flown away.
3. Oh, he taught me to love him and promised to love
And to cherish me over all others above
How my heart now is wond'ring misery can tell
He's left me no warning, no words of farewell.
4. Oh, he taught me to love him and called me his flow'r
That was blooming to cheer him through life's dreary hour.
Oh, I'm longing to see him through life's dark hour
He's gone and neglected this pale wildwood flower.

* Wildwood Flower was popularized by the Carter Family, particularly as sung by "Mother" Maybelle Carter in a 1928 recording. Maybelle said she had learned the song as a youngster, from her grandmother. It's believed that it was originally a song called I'll Twine 'Mid the Ringlets, copyrighted in 1860. The music, similar to the melody above, was by J.P. Webster. The lyricist was "Maud Irving," likely a pseudonym for the poet J. William Van Namee (see Eric M. Bram's article, The Mystery of Maud Irving (the "Wildwood Flower")), at www.ergo-sum.net/music/MaudIrving.html, and the original sheet music, at www.ergo-sum.net/music/Twine'MidTheRinglets.pdf.)

Maybelle Carter later said some of the words had "gotten mixed up" and that "they don't make much sense in a few places in the song." Many variations out there attempt to correct that, and there's much discussion on the Web about what the lyrics "should be" -- but no real answers. The online version of this transcription (at www.fiddlers.org/tunes/) also has the original published lyrics to "Mid the Ringlets" for comparison, from Wikipedia and Peter Wernick's "Bluegrass Songbook".

*** In the original, "The pale aronatus with eyes of bright blue." But "aronatus" is not a known flower name. Some sing "pale amanita" or "pale emanita", and sometimes "and islip so blue," but neither "emanita" nor "islip" is a recognized flower. "Amanita" is an often-poisonous mushroom (with no blue 'eyes'). Hyssop has blue flowers, but is not native to the U.S.

Arr. and typeset in ABC by Pete Showman, text revised 4/7/2016 (rev 4)

* Though the song was popularized in the 20th Century by the Carter Family, it seems to be based on this song, published in 1860. The song was handed down orally (and garbled in places) within the Carter Family. The music for this older song was by J.P. (Joseph Philbrick) Webster. The lyrics were by "Maud Irving", and were apparently taken from a poem, also by "Maud Irving," published somewhat earlier in a women's magazine of the time. (Maud Irving is believed to be a pseudonym for the poet J. William Van Namee; see Eric M. Bram's article The Mystery of Maud Irving (the "Wildwood Flower") at www.ergo-sum.net/music/MaudIrving.html). There are references to the poem, but the poem itself has apparently been lost. You can see the original song here: www.ergo-sum.net/music/Twine'MidTheRinglets.pdf

Note: Music composer J.P. Webster also wrote the Civil War era song "Lorena".

I'LL TWINE 'MID THE RINGLETS

Lyrics by Maud Irving, music by J.P. Webster

1. I'll twine 'mid the ringlets of my raven black hair,
The lilies so pale and the roses so fair,
The myrtle so bright with an emerald hue,
And the pale aronatus++ with eyes of bright blue.

2. I'll sing, and I'll dance, my laugh shall be gay,
I'll cease this wild weeping, drive sorrow away,
Tho' my heart is now breaking, he never shall know,
That his name made me tremble and my pale cheeks to glow.

3. I'll think of him never, I'll be wildly gay,
I'll charm ev'ry heart, and the crowd I will sway,
I'll live yet to see him regret the dark hour
When he won, then neglected, the frail wildwood flower.

4. He told me he loved me, and promis'd to love,
Through ill and misfortune, all others above,
Another has won him; ah! misery to tell;
He left me in silence, no word of farewell.

5. He taught me to love him, he call'd me his flower
That blossom'd for him all the brighter each hour;
But I woke from my dreaming, my idol was clay;
My visions of love have all faded away.

++ Originally "aronatus" but there seems to be no such flower, so perhaps it was an error (mis-spelling?) on the part of the poet / lyricist. Some suggest that "amaranthus" is more logical. But most of those are strongly colored, not "pale", nor do they have "blue eyes". Another guess at what was meant is "amanita" (the mushroom family that includes the poisonous mushroom known as the "Death Cap"). Some, but not all, are pale -- but still no "blue eyes". And why would a woman put mushrooms in her hair, poisonous or not?
